Death, loss and pain are something that come to all of us, they have been called great levellers, common experiences we all share. We experience them in many guises, for cruelty, love, jealousy or even kindness, as the protagonists in this collection of five short stories discover.

In BEING ZOE, Cat must decide how best to shield her secret obsession from a hurtful truth, but how far will she go to protect the girl she's admired from afar for so long?

In GOING TO MISSOURI, on a lonely road, two travel companions indulge in idle chatter though only one will make it out alive. LOGICAL depicts a lonely world of a writer with only robots for companionship. But are his artificial friends as benign as they seem?

In THE GOOD SAMARITAN, Mary's desperate to find a solution to her predicament but doesn't expect tragedy to provide the solution to her prayers. And in the title story, THE LAST SUNSET, as his love Marisol lies dying in her bed while a post apocalyptic world smoulders, Gren has time to observe the beauty of the setting sun and think about what the end might mean.
